Slots open on Philmont Treks

If any Scout in the council is interested, there are several troops and a crew going to Philmont from the council in the summer of 2013. Please contact the Scout Office if your Scout(s) is interested in attending, and we can find a trek for your Scout. Philmont is a wonderful experience for Scouts!

Popcorn Sales Underway

If Scouts didn't get a popcorn form from their unit leader, be sure to do it now. This year there is the $1,000 Club where Scouts can qualify for fabulous prizes.

Also there are two different drawings for popcorn Fill-Up-Your-Order-Sheet - October 1st and October 15th (submit a filled up order sheet by day September 30th and October 12th).

Also, check out how Scouts can earn a free 2013 Cub Scout Day Camp or a 2013 $150 voucher for Boy Scout Summer Camp.

Eagle Scouts

Only 5 percent of the Scouts have achieved Eagle rank, Cherokee Area Council ranks above the national average in Eagle rank achievement.

Our congratulations go out to the following Scout who has achieved Eagle rank in the last month:

- Jacob Anderson – Troop 6 (re-establish Endicott Trail for Corps of Engineers, Copan Lake – 267 hours)
- Joseph Trudeau – Troop 32 (Saint John's Gardens – 252 hours)

Cherokee Area Council is proud of this Scout's achievement.

Helpful Day - September 15

Helpful Day at Camp McClintock is a new addition to the 2012-2013 Scouting Calendar. This event is intended for Cubs, Scouts, Venturers, Explorers, and all leaders and parents. It is a chance for any Scouting person to make contact with the many others in the council and find out about units and activities that are available.

At the same time, all the people will be helping out to do helpful things at the Camp to make it a better place for units for their Scouting activities. Remember that any council unit can camp at McClintock and use most of the facilities for free (a few items have rental costs.) Come join the eager Scout beavers to do cutting edge work at the upgraded Camp McClintock. Troops are encouraged to invite Webelos Dens to camp with them at this weekend.

This is a work day for camp, bring your tools to help out. Also intended for people to be able to see other units and find out about Scouting activities. The Order of the Arrow Ordeal will be going on at the same time, so people can observe the OA and find out more about this organization.

The intent is to help Scouts learn to be helpful, provide a chance for service hours for advancement, help Scouts learn about other organizations in Scouting which helps recruitment and retention in the Scouting program. It will be fun for all, so come and enjoy!

Helpful Day will be held at Camp McClintock, September 15, 2012, 9 am to 4 pm with no cost. Attendees should bring a sack lunch.

For more information see the flyer on the Council web site here <http://www.cherokeebbsa.org/activities/2012-Helpful-Day.pdf>

Youth Protection Training – September 20

Are you tired of computer modules and need the interaction of an experienced Scout Volunteer to talk with in person???? Well we have a choice for you!

The next training opportunity – a Youth Protection class – will be offered on September 20th at 7:00 PM at the Council Service Center. There will be an experienced leader on site providing training to adults with helpful tools, handouts and hands on demonstrations.

Advanced registration is required before September 18, 2012.

Every registered adult in Scouting has to have a current youth protection training certification. If you don't know when your training expires, check out www.myscouting.org for your last training date.

For any questions or to sign up contact the Scout office at 918.336.9170.

Cub Scout Fun-O-Ree – September 29

The Fun-O-Ree is a big recruiting event for Cub Scouts. The best way to be successful in recruiting is for your Pack to have all the Cubs attending sometime during the day, and for each one to bring a friend. Nothing helps recruiting like a friend asking you to come to the event, and nothing helps retention in units like Scouts having a friend in their unit.

All Packs and Troops are encouraged to staff an activity for this big recruiting event, which is a great way for new people to get to see what Packs are available and for Webelos Dens to see what Troops are in the area.

All units should contact the Scout office with the information of unit number, meeting location, address, city, best contact: phone, e-mail, and meeting day and time. This will be put into a handout for all attendees, so that people have a listing of the choices available to them.

Remember that the Scouts earn a recruiter patch for each Scout they recruit, and new Cubs earn their first pinewood derby car for free!

The Districts will also be advertising the event in Grade School Roundups and in the media.

Osage Hills District

Joey Stone from Pawhuska will be Chief for event and his troop will facilitate the event. The OH District Committee will be helping with logistics.

This is a district wide recruiting event for all Packs, Troops, Crews, and Posts. Units are encouraged to present some type of live activity so their unit can demonstrate what it is we do in Scouting.

All Packs and Troops are encouraged to staff an activity for this big recruiting event.

Please email candibarlow@gmail.com to indicate what activity your unit would like to do during the event. Possible activities include: a mock camp site, a cracker barrel buffet, tug-o-war, build a bridge, whatever your unit would like to do.

When notifying candibarlow@gmail.com about your activity, please indicate how much space your unit will need. Units should e-mail candibarlow@gmail.com by September 12th.

Please note the date change for the OH FUN-O-REE

Sept 29th from 11am to 4pm at M.J. Lee Lake Soccer Fields across from Lowe's open to the public. <http://www.cherokeebbsa.org/activities/2012-OH-Fun0ree.pdf>

Grand Lake District

The Grand Lake Fun-O-REE will also be held on Saturday, September 29th from 11 AM to 3 PM at the Peoria Pow Wow Grounds in Miami

<http://www.cherokeebbsa.org/activities/2012-GL-Fun-O-Ree.pdf>

Cub Scout Belt Loop Festival – October 6

On October 6th from noon to 6 pm the 2012 Cub Scout Belt Loop Festival will be held at Camp McClintock. This is a wonderful afternoon of fun for Cub Scouts where they can earn up to five belt loops.

Two sports oriented belt loops are being offered - Ultimate and Kickball – along with four others - Art, Good Manners, Language and Culture, and Music. The sports belt loops are two hours each and the others one hour each, so if Cubs take one sport they can take four other belt loops, or if they choose to take both sport belt loops, then they can earn four belt loops during the afternoon.

The cost is only $5 which includes a snack and patch, and Cubs and parents need to eat prior to coming. The registration form is available at the Scout Office and on the Council web site here

<http://www.cherokeebbsa.org/activities/2012-Belt-Loop-Festival.pdf>

Registration needs to be submitted by Monday, October 1st. Registration is setup to be done by Dens, as the den moves together through the belt loops, since the sports require groups to play the games.

Washita Lodge News

The Lodge leadership has been working hard to provide a memorable experience for this fall OA Activities. Thank you Tim Snow and David Castoe.

Callout out at Camporee (Sept. 8) Come out and watch our Ceremonies team. Camp fire and callout are scheduled for 7:00pm.

Helpful Day (Sept. 15) / Ordeal weekend (Sept. 14-15)
Ordeal candidates will be going through their Ordeal at the same time Cub Scouts and non-OA Boy Scouts are participating in Helpful Day. We need elangomats to guide the Ordeal candidates. The Ordeal starts on Friday night and ends Saturday evening with dinner. We need all available Arrowmen to come to Helpful Day/Ordeal weekend to organize and supervise projects - adults and youth alike. See the Council web site (<http://tinyurl.com/clq79ew>) and registration form for pricing <http://www.cherokeesbsa.org/oa/2012FallOrdealRegistration.pdf>

No food is provided for anyone other than the people in the OA that have registered following the criteria below.

Meals are only provided for event-registered OA members/Ordeal candidates.

OA members that are going to participate with Ordeal or supervise/run projects must register and get a colored armband to eat at cracker-barrel Friday night, Breakfast and Lunch Saturday.

There is no fee for OA members that register for Helpful/Ordeal Day, but they are expected to participate in a leadership role on work projects.

Meals for Ordeal candidates will be handled as in the past. They will not be eating in the mess hall for Breakfast or Lunch.

Dinner Saturday Night ($10 fee):

This is an OA Only event.

Ordeal members that have completed their ordeal that day, do not pay this fee. It is currently included in the Ordeal Fee.

The next scheduled fellowship is also included in that fee as well so they will need to fill out a Fall Fellowship registration form also for this year. If they miss that fellowship they have to pay like everyone else from then on. We are not going to track that.

All other OA members must pay the fee of $10 for Sat Dinner and receive a different colored armband for dinner. No armband no eat.

All OA Members that work the day and stay for the dinner will have two armbands of different colors.

They must have the correct armband to eat for that respective meal.

Armbands will be replaced at a cost of $1 after it is verified they have registered to work or paid for the Sat dinner (depending on the meal they are trying to eat).

Ordeal candidates will be issued both armbands at the time of check in and verification they have paid.

2012 FALL Fellowship (Oct 12-13) held at Camp McClintock. With ordeal moved to Helpful Day we can come and enjoy Fun, Food, Competitions and Fellowship. Like a fellowship should be. Brotherhood class will be offered to those brothers that are eligible to solidify their membership in the Lodge. The estimated cost for Fellowship is $20 Early bird fee. All 2012 NOAC Contingent members can attend this event at no charge but you must register. Just write on the top of your form 2012 NOAC Contingent member. So register now! More detail on Fellowship will be posted the week following Helpful Day. The registration form is available on the Council web site <http://www.cherokeesbsa.org/oa/2012-Fall-Fellowship-Registration.pdf>

OA One Day of Service (Oct 27) is a one day event held Council-wide where Arrowmen all across the Council find Service Opportunities to provide Service to their respective Communities. The Chapters will be providing more information on this activity and ideas on where to go and who in your area may be a good contact for this type of Service. It is suggested that the Arrowmen living in communities (maybe OA members of a local unit) get together wearing their shirts and sashes to do their service to the community. Things that have been done in the past have been planting trees, park cleanup, graffiti removal...use your imagination and show your community you care and want to make a difference.

I am very excited about these upcoming activities. Washita Lodge has always been a strong Lodge even for one of the smallest in the nation. My goal, with your help, is to make us the Biggest Little Lodge in the Nation. The 2015 NOAC is the 100th Anniversary Celebration of the Order of the Arrow. Wouldn't be awesome to take a contingent of 200 Washita Lodge members! Start making plans now and get involved at your Chapter and find out where you can be of Service.

Yours in Brotherhood,
Wayde Hamilton
Lodge Advisor

Charter Fee Increases, Changes Name for 2013

Effective Jan. 1, 2013, what is now known as the “unit charter fee” will be renamed the “unit liability insurance fee” and will increase in cost from $20 to $40 yearly.

As a result, the new fee will begin with units that have December 31, 2012 charter expiration dates (a charter period beginning Jan. 1, 2013).

All units, including Exploring posts, are required to pay this annual fee—100 percent of which goes into the general liability insurance program—when submitting their charter renewal applications. This fee helps defray expenses of the general liability insurance program.

The reasons for the changes include:

- The reserves for open claims have increased significantly over the last several years.
- The average cost per claim has nearly doubled in the last five years.
- Claims payments have doubled in the last two years compared to a five-year average from 2005–2009.

The general liability insurance policy provides primary liability insurance coverage for registered adults and for all chartered organizations on file with the BSA for liability arising out of their chartering a traditional Scouting unit. This policy provides coverage for claims alleging negligent actions that result in either personal injury or property damage.

A chartered organization is an organization that has applied for and received a current Boy Scouts of America charter to operate a Scouting unit. A chartered organization as defined within the policy shall include the chartered organization, its board of directors and/or trustees, and its officer and employees, in their official and individual capacities. This definition also includes a specific position: chartered organization representative.

Chartered organizations do not need a certificate of insurance. The chartered organization endorsement is a part of the insurance policy contract and is enforceable under the policy contract. Old Republic Insurance Company provides the first $1 million in coverage. Additional policies—all providing primary coverage to the chartered organization—have been purchased so that more than $5 million in primary coverage is provided.

There is no coverage for those who commit intentional or criminal acts. Liability insurance is purchased to provide financial protection in the event of accidents or injury that occurs during an official Scouting activity.

Need to Know: No Party Favors Here

With the presidential election approaching, Scouters should dust off the guidelines on Scout participation at political rallies. David Burke, BSA communications specialist, notes that Scouts can perform a flag ceremony at a political campaign event, but immediately after that ceremony they should leave the site or stay, if they wish – but not in uniform.

The point is to avoid any suggestion that the BSA supports a particular political candidate or party. Burke says this fine line is harder to walk during an election year, especially after August when both parties have chosen their candidates.

A presidential visit is a special case in itself. “The fact that you’re invited to hear the president speak does not mean you support a particular party or candidate,” Burke says. “You’re there to listen to the president of the United States as our nation’s leader.” However, once the president is announced as a candidate during an election year, the above rules apply.

Annual Health and Medical Record to be updated

An updated Annual Health and Medical Record will be available to Scouts everywhere Sept. 3. Its use will be mandated by Jan. 1, 2014.

The 2012 AHMR revision includes several noticeable changes. In an effort to support the BSA's All Markets Strategy, we have developed a bilingual format. As you know, accurate medical information is vital to keeping Scouts safe and healthy at all Scouting events. This new format will make it easier for councils and volunteers to have a completed AHMR—as required for all participants.

In addition, we have included information regarding the Summit Bechtel Reserve in preparation for the 2013 National Scout Jamboree and the Summit's 2014 program.

One other feature is a scanner-friendly Part C, a pre-participation physical that will facilitate electronically capturing key data for faster intake at large events and camps.

As always, careful planning went into the development of the updated version, with input coming from councils, volunteers, and the Health and Safety Team. These revisions do not include any changes to BSA policy and will benefit everyone in Scouting, no matter what adventure is being planned. The revisions will also be reflected in all supporting documents such as the AHMR FAQ Web page

<http://www.scouting.org/scoutsources/HealthandSafety/Resources/MedicalFormFAQs.aspx>

Hiking Merit Badge: The One-Day, 20-Mile Hike

Earning the Hiking merit badge can be a rewarding experience for many Scouts. The badge helps youth learn how to hike safely and how to build endurance, and it can increase awareness for the beauty outdoors. Young men begin with short hikes and build to a one day, 20-mile trek. Furthermore, as each goes down his personal trail toward becoming an Eagle Scout, he may even choose Hiking over Swimming or Cycling as one of the 21 required merit badges. This gives the Hiking merit badge some added importance, which should be considered by Scouts and their leaders.

Over the years, the question often gets asked whether or not this merit badge's requirements allow for an extended rest period or overnight stay during the one-day, 20-mile hike.

"After all," goes the argument, "isn't a 'day' 24 hours in length?" The answer lies in the intent of the requirement: to give Scouts a grand, culminating experience. A 20-mile hike divided equally by an overnight stay essentially results in two 10-mile hikes and defeats that intent. Scouts should feel a great deal of accomplishment when completing the Hiking merit badge, especially after a single 20-mile hike. Breaking that hike into multiple parts takes away from that experience.

The Cub Scout Angle

Whether joining a brand-new den of Tiger Cubs or an existing Webelos den, the first rank every Cub Scout completes is Bobcat. Working together as a den to go over the Bobcat requirements at one of the first meetings in the fall is a great way for both new and returning Cub Scouts to review the basics of Cub Scouting without singling out a new member. This method also provides a mentoring opportunity for den chiefs and returning Cub Scouts.

Here's another idea: Rather than rote recital, try using the Simon Says game to practice the Cub Scout sign, salute, and handshake as a pre-meeting gathering activity. Later in the meeting, incorporate another "fun with a purpose" game involving the Cub Scout Promise, Cub Scout motto, and the Law of the Pack. Remember, "Do Your Best" is not only the motto; it is also the standard for Cub Scout advancement performance.

Another equally important part of the Bobcat rank is the requirement for each new member, with his parent or guardian, to read and complete the exercises in the booklet How to Protect Your Children from Child Abuse. Child abuse is a problem in our society, and this booklet helps children avoid potentially abusive situations. Leaders should encourage parents to fill out the Youth Protection booklet. This not only provides a record of this important step but provides the youth with a place to record his achievements all year long. It will become a memorable keepsake as he recalls his days in Cub Scouts and proudly displays the handbook at his Eagle Scout court of honor.

Speaking of handbooks, some packs distribute rank handbooks in June for the next year so Cub Scouts and their parents may begin working on the requirements at day camp, resident camp, pack campouts, and so forth. Many summer camps send home completed advancement lists, which indicate those activities that fulfill achievement, elective, activity badge, and other requirements. The den leader, however, may choose to review requirements completed and ask the Cub Scout, "Did you do your best?" before signing the achievement in the handbook.

As a reminder, parents (or adult partners) sign for Bobcat trail and Tiger Cub achievements, with the den leader then approving and recording that progress in the den's advancement record. For Wolf, Bear, Webelos, and Arrow of Light advancement, den leaders (and their assistants) take the lead in approving requirements. Parents or guardians who help out (or who sent their sons to camp) may be asked to assist. Finally, leaders should remember to submit completed advancement reports through Internet Advancement or to their Scout Service Center as part of their Journey to Excellence.

Service Projects—at the Core of Scouting

For every Boy Scout rank, the Scout must demonstrate Scout spirit by living the Scout Oath and Scout Law in his everyday life. This includes helping others. A Scout's duty to others often takes the form of service projects or service hours, and these are integrated into the advancement program beginning with the Second Class rank.

For Second Class, the Scout must participate in an approved service project lasting at least one hour. This may be a troop project like a highway cleanup or helping the chartered organization, or it could be a project undertaken by a patrol. With the Scoutmaster's approval, it could even be something a Scout does alone. Often, of course, the service time is fulfilled by assisting with an Eagle Scout candidate's project.

Star and Life ranks each require participating for at least six hours per rank in service projects approved by the Scoutmaster. The requirements do not say that the service time or the projects must be approved beforehand, but a discussion with the Scoutmaster may prevent any issues at a board of review. Note that no council, district, unit, or individual has the authority to add a planning requirement to the Second Class, Star, or Life service project requirements.

The Eagle Scout candidate must plan, develop, and give leadership to his service project. And the key to evaluating this requirement comes in looking at its impact, not the number of hours spent on it. The Guide to Advancement covers the Eagle Scout project requirement in detail in section 9.

For any service project, someone should keep track of participants and time spent, not only so Scouts get credit toward rank requirements, but also to facilitate reporting on the Journey to Excellence website. The unit leader or unit committee may designate someone for collecting and reporting this information.

Promoting Venturing Advancement

Venturing advancement can have a tremendous impact on the lives of young men and women by helping to develop character and prepare them for the future. Here are a few ways to promote Venturing advancement within a crew.

1. Inform

Many Venturers do not even know the advancement awards exist. Go to www.scouting.org/venturing to learn more about them. Tell your Venturers about the benefits of earning awards.

2. Build Advancement into the Crew's Program

Center crew activities on an award. Work toward learning the subject matter and completing the requirements. For example, for the Outdoor Bronze Award, include sessions about backpacking in each meeting and on crew outings and events.

3. Courts of Honor

Regularly hold courts of honor to recognize those who have advanced and received awards. Recognize Venturers who have made significant contributions to crew successes.

4. Track and Tell

Use a chart to track advancement for each Venturer. Then let each know about those few requirements left to earn one of the awards.

5. Uniforms

Encourage crew members to wear the official Venturing field uniform and to proudly display their awards and recognitions to help promote advancement.

6. Mentor Program

Develop a mentoring program where each Venturer has an adult mentor or an older youth member who will encourage and work with him or her to complete award requirements.
